GLEANINGS BY THE WAYSIDE

Observations of a "Journal" Scribe While Touring Churchill County.

FELL FROM THE HEAVENS.

Out in the center of a Churchill county desert, where the winds have drifted the sand into undulating waves like a sea in a storm, there lies a huge boulder. Passers-by have often speculated as to the how-come-it-there ness of the big, black mass of rock. It resembles slag from a furnace. Its shape and constituency evidence that it was subjected to immense heat. The supposition is that it is a meteoric rock.

TENANTS OF THE DESERT.

This is a tale of long and short tails —namely the iguanoid lizard, commonly called the horned toad—he of the diminished caudal appendage—and the serpent-like reptile that trots through the greasewood and wears the name "hatteria" inscribed upon his collar—provided his master has paid the municipal tax levied upon the canines, Gila monsters and skunks.

Both the horned toad and the hatteria are abroad in the land, especially where the sands of Churchill ebb and flow across the landscape.

The hatteria is a ferocious little fellow. He is not daunted by the lash of your buggy whip, but will tackle anything the length of his tail or the weight of his dignity.

Mr. Horned Toad is less belligerent, and though timid at the approach of the pursuer, he is tamed as soon as captured, and will curl up and go to sleep in his captor's hand, confident that he will be treated well.

IN THE DAYS OF NOAH.

Few thinking people disbelieve the theory that in days gone by a salt sea covered the plains of Nevada and lapped the mountain peaks which were then islands.

Proof of this theory may be obtained on the drive from Wadsworth to the Carson sink. Six miles beyond the railroad, there are terraces on the hillside showing the heights reached by the ancient sea. Water-washed boulders and marine shells may be found in abundance on these terraces and the rocks above are pictured by the waves.

The flats, which were the deepest portions of this sea, are composed of sedimentary and alkaline soils to a great depth. Beautiful calcareous water formations abound. Their shapes are so similar to the work of the coral insect that it is thought by some that they are really the secretions of this zoophyte.

At present there are three good sized streams into which the waters are divided. They are known as Carson river, Old river and New river.

The first named is the natural successor of Old river.

The new stream was due to the cutting of a small ditch which was widened by the waters until New river is now one of the largest streams in the sink.

AN UMBRAGEOUS COTTONWOOD.

One of the principal landmarks on the Carson river is an antiquated cottonwood that rears its head on the Trosset ranch. This ancient tree is the grand daddy of all the cottonwoods. Its trunk requires a rope 25 feet in length to encircle it. To contour the tree resembles one of the famous New England elms.

One of the old emigrant trails passes beneath its wide-spreading arms. Many a weary adventurer in the early days lay down within its shade and dreamed of his cottage home beneath the spreading Eastern oak or of the golden sands where murmur the Sierran pines.

OLD CRATERS.

Driving in a northeasterly direction from Ragtown, along the course of the telephone line, the traveler sees nothing but a bare expanse of sand, level as a floor. Suddenly the bottom seems to have dropped out of the plain. Here is a circular depression, half a mile across and a couple of hundred feet deep. A little lake fills the bottom of the orifice.

Several hundred yards further is another cavity several times as large as the first. The lake in this is of unknown depth. Ten feet from the shore on the farther side, a sounding line was dropped 175 feet before bottom was reached. No one knows how deep the water is in the center of the depression.

RIVERS GALORE

A visitor to Churchill county meets with a number of surprises in the freaks displayed by Mother Nature. Her vast forces are displayed on every hand, but in some instances the hand of man was used to further the work begun by nature.

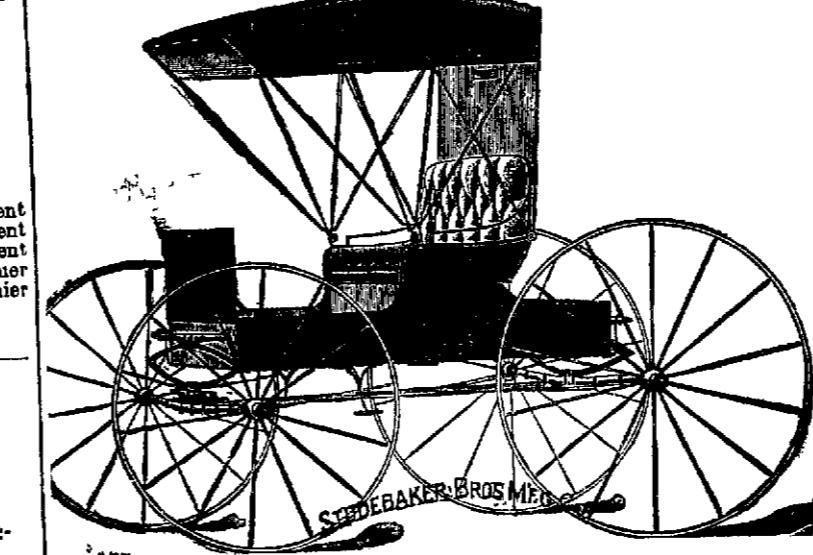

As it flows through Alpine, Douglas, Ormsby and Lyon counties, the Carson river is a staid, sober, every day stream, but as soon as it reaches Churchill county it takes on wildcat proclivities. All over the great valley or sink of the Carson are channels where the stream at one time or another has roamed at its own sweet will.

At present there are three good sized streams into which the waters are divided. They are known as Carson river, Old river and New river. The first named is the natural successor of Old river. The new stream was due to the cutting of a small ditch which was widened by the waters until New river is now one of the largest streams in the sink.

THE STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE'S CALL.

There will be a meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee on the 14th of the present month at Reno, to make such disposition of the campaign work of the party as present demands require. The call states there will be business of importance before the committee, which business will require careful consideration and direction. Much will depend upon an exercise of good judgment by members of the committee when shaping the work of the campaign to make it a success.

At no time since the close of the Civil war has there been before the people questions which include so much that will affect the future of the country for good or for evil as there are now. Questions that are new, which include the future stability of the republic, are presented for settlement. The importance of an intelligent disposition of these questions must be fully appreciated by every Democrat who has patriotism equal to the standard of Democrats of the past, which gave to the Democratic party political standing and the confidence of the people when defending the principles upon which the republic and its government was given foundation and form.

A just and successful issue upon these questions will largely depend upon local organization and the direction of the campaign. The Democratic party in the State was almost disorganized by its members identifying themselves with the movement made by the people in the interest of free and unlimited coinage of silver. At the time the silver movement was initiated in the State there was cause, because of its character, that it be made a sole issue to remove political differences there existed upon other political questions among those who were anxious to identify themselves with the cause of silver.

The demonetization of silver was and is intended as a lever to oppress the laboring millions of the earth by keeping them in bondage to the gold power, who will continue to rule the people as it may suit its interest by making money plentiful or making it scarce. The same power that has removed silver from free coinage in the commercial world has continued its work to procure permanent dominion over the industrial world by attacking the principles in the United States upon which the superstructure of the republic was made.

These attacks upon the principles that are fundamental demand united and, if possible, decisive action against them by Democrats and by those who love their country and love mankind irrespective of political affiliation. While the contention to secure the right to silver as a money factor, which God and nature intended it should occupy, as confirmed through the earliest and continued history of mankind and their use of the metal, there has been injected into the contention by the gold power questions that demand attention which are more vital to the people than the remonetization of silver.

The demonetization of silver is incident to the main scheme and work the gold power has in store for the people which is a peaceable revolution of our republican system by imperializing it after the manner of the English system or after the manner of any imperial system that will destroy the Republic, which is abundantly established by work of the gold power in Congress, and by work of that power not included in the efforts of that imperialistic body at Washington.

When questions that include the future of our Republican fabric are presented to the people for solution they are of all problems entitled to their best thought and most wise action. The fathers of the republic, who won the boon of liberty for us, marked the snows of winter with blood that flowed from their shoeless feet while engaged in the struggle, which bore to us, a degenerate, imperialistic gold power hierarchy is engaged in destroying. The people have a duty to posterity imposed upon them by those who died or suffered the privations of a seven years war, which, were they inclined to do so, they cannot dispose of in any honorable way. Should it become necessary for us to suffer the consequences in the form of privations that may overtake the people as a result of the work of imperialists we will have to meet them with the fortitude of our ancestors.

The contention for the remonetization of silver will continue in connection with opposition made to the more lately developed schemes to overthrow the republic. While contention is made by the people to destroy imperialism and remove imperialists from power the silver in our mountains will not be lost or be subject to waste while we engage in the contention. When the contention is over and the people have emancipated themselves from the thralldom of the gold power, silver will be more valuable than it is now. To meet the requirements there are upon the State committee in a way that the times demand, it is and will continue to be the duty of all Democrats to pull it when engaged in the work of party rehabilitation in the State. The Silver party became of its corrupt methods and complete subjection to the will of Charlie Wallace has become to be regarded as an old sore on the body politic that should be disposed of by a healing process which will have a tendency to restore its remaining constituents to a state of political purity.

For all other advertising legal rates will be charged.

THE GIFT OF SECOND SIGHT

Special to the JOURNAL.

PEORIA, Ill., March 31.—There is in this city a little 10-year-old girl who in the past two weeks has mystified hundreds. Her name is Grace Holmes. January 7th, Mrs. Lucy Summers disappeared. Every effort to discover her whereabouts was unavailing. Two weeks ago Grace told her parents that while lying in her bed the night before she watched Mrs. Summers steal out of her house and slowly make her way, clad in night clothes, to the bank of the river.

The woman hesitated a moment, then plunged into the river and was drowned. The corpse finally floated almost over the identical spot. Then people began to wonder. To convince them the girl guided a party to a spot in the river where she said could be found of Jesse Saundar, a negro who had been murdered. The body was found where the child indicated. All Illinois is astounded.

There is but one small chance to save your life and that is through an operation," was the awful prospect set before Mrs. L. B. ## PROJECTS

Paper Mill and Power Plant Are Both Rapidly Nearing Completion.

Mortimer Fleishhacker of Truckee River General Electric Company and the Floriston Pulp and Paper Company arrived in Reno yesterday. He reports that all the mill buildings are completed and that the machinery is being rapidly installed.

A portion of the factory will be in operation some time next month and the entire plant will be running by the latter part of June. Between two and three hundred operatives will be employed. Cottages for their accommodation is being rapidly constructed. A large hotel and company store building will also be erected soon. The operatives will all reside in Floriston. Reno and Verdi will, however, enjoy considerable business patronage from them and from the company. This city is really headquarters for transaction of business by the company.

Work on the electric plant system is also being pushed forward as rapidly as possible. The dam is completed and the first section of the water way is finished. Workmen are now engaged constructing the big flume, considerable lumber for which is already on the ground.

A bridge across the Truckee at Mystic has been built by the company and the foundation of the power house at that place is being prepared. The pole line has been put up for a distance of seven or eight miles and wire stringing will soon begin.

LITTLE LOCAL BREVITIES

Items of Street and Town too Brief for Separate Heads.

Thus far licensees have been paid on eighty dogs in Reno.

The work of experting the county officers' records will require another week.

Stockmen say that feed is more plentiful this spring than for many years.

The Nevada Literary Society will meet to-morrow evening at the home of Miss Webster.

Last night there was the usual number of drunks to evidence the last evening in the week.

A civil service examination for appointment to the mail service will be held in the court house to-morrow.

The officers have gotten a lively wriggle on and are hauling in offenders against the fish law at a great rate.

University Theatricals.

The two act comedy, "Mr. Bob," as played by the University Dramatic Club in the gymnasium last evening, far surpassed the expectations of the audience, and was well worth double the small price of admittance.

While some of the diffident stiffness which characterized the amateur was to be observed it was not so much in evidence as to detract from one's enjoyment of the play.

Miss Little Kruger, as Miss Rebecca Luke, a spinster with marked predilection for cats, displayed the most dramatic ability, although not playing the star role.

Katherine Rodgers, her niece, impersonated by a lady whom we are forbidden to name, carried out the character in a manner above reproach.

Phillip Royson, the hero, and Mr. Brown, the emaciated clerk, as represented by Messrs. Dexter and Giles, respectively, need no mention as both have scintillated before the footlights ere this.

Miss Maud Nash, erstwhile "Patty" a facetious Irish maid, kept the audience laughing, throwing herself into the part with true artistic abandon. "Jenkins," the butler and "Marion Bryant," represented by C. E. Southworth and Miss Dora Hill also deserve mention.

This college dramatic organization certainly deserves praise, inasmuch as it promotes study of elocution and furnishes a relief from the prevalent inclination toward dancing.

Choice Meats.

Enough poultry to feed the multitude was displayed in the show window at the Washoe lunch counter last night. Messrs. Block & Clausen always provide the best in the market and plenty of it for their customers' Sunday dinner.

'Tis Now Legal.

To-day it will be legal to catch trout in the Truckee river after the approved methods. All the sportsmen in the vicinity (who are not also prospectors) will start up the river at early dawn to hook the funny fellows.

THOUSANDS MADE HAPPY

Big Boom in the Matrimonial Market in the Past Four Years.

The number of licenses issued at the county clerk's office in the past four years is now hovering around the thousand mark.

This boom in the matrimonial market here is due largely to the fact that four years ago the California legislature passed a law compelling divorced people to wait a year before again donning the chains of matrimony.

There was nothing in the statute books preventing the matrimonially inclined coming to Reno to get spliced. This has proved a very excellent law for this city. Every couple that comes here leaves in license, cab fare, hotel bills, tips, wedding fees, etc., the sum of, say, $20. The total is a neat little fortune.

To come to Reno they must patronize Uncle Collie. Some come from distant points in the State, but, presuming that the average distance is from San Francisco, the thousand couples have dropped into the railroad coffers the tidy sum of $40,000.

Let them come; the more the merrier.

Change of Residence.

It is reported that S. M. Sample has resigned his position with Earl & Co. at Amedee and himself and family will leave soon for the Pacific coast, probably Los Angeles. This on account of Mrs. Sample's health.

Mines Recently Located.

Charles C. Wallace has located the Gem claim on the Copper Queen lode, three miles northwest of Reno.

City of Rome No. 1, No. 2, No. 3 and No. 4 are the titles of four claims located by J. H. Brown et al in Copper gulch.

Messrs. Brown, Updike, Pothoff and Mickell have located the I. C. group of five claims in Copper gulch.

J. B. Miller, O. H. Stoddard, V. Bony and Jacob Gooding are locators of the Eureka, Kruger and Bonanza claims.

A Fraternal Visit.

Last evening a special train carried a number of Reno Woodmen to Carson, where a fraternal visit was paid last night to their fellow craftsmen in the capital city. A number of ladies accompanied the party. They will return by the regular trains to-day.

Ladies when in want of a pattern we will be pleased to have you call on us as we sell all paper patterns at 10 cents, none better. Novelty Dry Goods Store.

HE LIVES ON EASY STREET

Brooks McLane's Lucky Strike in Olinghouse Gulch.

Brooks McLane, an Olinghouse miner, has had all the downs and few of the ups that a prospector is liable to be heir to. Fortune is now smiling broadly at him. She has directed his pick and shovel to a fifteen inch ledge or pocket of ore that will assay into the thousands.

In his cabin in Olinghouse Friday he had 37 sacks of ore, all of which was specimen rock. Every day he adds about 800 pounds to his golden store. It is not yet known how permanent his formation is but if the ledge proves to be well defined and to continue to increase in width and value as it goes down, Brooks will be on velvet, well, he's on velvet now, anyway.

LUXURIOUS CLUBMEN

Are always fastidious about the flavor and smoking qualities of their cigars, and our choice brands are general favorites with them everywhere. You can't find a cigar on the market that can begin to compare with the LA CUBINA for the money in flavor or manufacture. It is the best medium priced cigar on the market today.

Having a Great Run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Manager Martin, of the Pierson drug store, informs us that he is having a great run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sells five bottles of that medicine to one of any other kind and it gives great satisfaction. In these days of the grippe there is nothing like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to stop the cough, heal up the sore throat and lungs and give relief within a very short time. The sales are growing, and all who try it are pleased with its prompt action.—South Chicago Daily Calumet. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.
